

TWO THOUSAND LIVES ARE LOST

Terrible Developments from Earthquake on Russian Territory.

FLAMES AND LAVA

Large Crevasse Opens in the Earth and Spreads Death and Destruction.

IN CONSTANT DREAD

St. Petersburg, Feb. 17.—It is now estimated that the number of persons who lost their lives in the Shamanka earthquake is two thousand. Four thousand houses were destroyed. To add to the horror a large crevasse in the earth appeared near the scene and from it immense flames and streams of lava belch forth. Besides Shamanka twenty-four villages in the district have been practically destroyed. The shocks continue and the survivors who are encamped on the surrounding hills are in constant dread of annihilation.

Earthquake Kills 2000. Baku, Russian Transcaucasia, Feb. 17.—The town of Shamanka, seventy miles west of this city, is now almost completely destroyed by the series of earthquakes which began several days since. Scarcely a dozen houses are standing. Three hundred dead bodies have been taken out of the ruins. The piles of wreckage are so vast that the search is necessarily slow. Most of the victims were Mussulmans. It appears certain that several hundred bodies are buried in the fissures and debris caused by the shocks. The quakes continue at intervals. Twenty-five thousand inhabitants are without food and shelter. They are living in camps outside the ruined city.

DAUGHTERS OF THE REVOLUTION

The Eleventh Continental Congress Opened by Mrs. Fairbanks in City of Washington Today. Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—The Eleventh Continental Congress of the American Revolution D. A. R. was called to order this morning. President General Mrs. Chas. Fairbanks, in an address of welcome urged that caution be taken to reduce the representation in congress. She congratulated the society upon its rapid growth and good financial standing and made a plea for the erection of a monument to revolutionary heroes. Mrs. John Swift, of California, responded for congress, after which an adjournment was taken.

THREE HUNDRED MILLION FEET

Immense Tract of White Pine Sold for $2,000,000—Bought by Edward Hines of Chicago. Duluth, Feb. 17.—The last great individual body of white pine for sale in Wisconsin, and the last in this section, with the exception of one on the north shore, that is tributary to the mills of the Duluth-Superior Harbor or Ashland, has just passed into the hands of the Edward Hines Lumber company of Chicago, now said to be the biggest lumber operators in the United States. The tract of pine referred to is situated eight or ten miles south of South Superior and lies East of Pedham, on the eastern Minnesota road. It was owned by Messrs Weyerhaeuser and Sanbury. There are about 300,000,000 feet of pine in the tract, and fully 95 per cent is white pine. It is said to be the greatest and finest body of white pine in the Northwest, and it will all be manufactured at the head of the lakes.

POPULIST PARTY DEAD IN KANSAS: HAS DRIFTED INTO DEMOCRACY

Remnant of Forces That Were All-Powerful for Years to Hold Final Convention on Friday Next.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 17.—The populist party, which has been a force in Kansas politics for twelve years, probably will pass into history on Friday next. The remnant of this once powerful organization in Kansas will hold its last state convention on that day. And while some of the rank and file are in favor of continuing the populist organization until a new party can be organized to take its place, the majority of the party leaders favor going back into the democratic party and taking possession of the latter's political machinery. The populist party sprang into being twelve years ago. It was built on the ruins of the Union Labor organization. Through the influence of the farmers alliance it came with-

CONVENTION WEEK FOR MILWAUKEE

Six Meetings Billed with an Estimated Total Attendance of 1,300—Beats the Record. Milwaukee, Feb. 17.—Six conventions and annual meetings are billed for Milwaukee this week, with an estimated total attendance of 1,300. This may beat the winter's record, so far as the number of conventions for a single week is concerned, and equal the attendance at the Wisconsin State Teachers' convention. The Wisconsin Retail Lumber Dealers' association convenes at the Plankinton house on Tuesday for a two days' meeting and will be attended by 250 of the more prominent lumber dealers of the state. The traveling lumber salesmen will hold a concatenation at the Elks' hall on Grand avenue on Tuesday evening at which several hundred Hoo-Hoos from various parts of the state will attend. The Wisconsin Independent Telephone association will hold its annual convention at the Hotel Pfister Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, with a probable attendance of 100. Four hundred members of the Masonic fraternity will hold a convention Tuesday evening at the Masonic Temple. An equal number of members of the Order of the Eastern Star will hold their twelfth annual meeting at the same place the following day.

CHEESE SHIPPERS ASK LOWER RATES

Railroad Commissioner Rice is Investigating the Matter at Monroe and Chicago. Monroe, Wis., Feb. 17.—Graham L. Rice, state railroad commissioner, was here last week and met with the principal cheese shippers who are members of the Southern Wisconsin Cheesemakers Association, which is making an effort to secure reduced freight rates on cheese between here and Chicago. Mr. Rice agreed that discrimination was being made by railroads against the southern Wisconsin cheese shippers. He went to Chicago today to confer with the railroad officials there. He will come here in a week to meet with the shippers again. The freight from here to Chicago is 33 1-2 cents a hundred on cheese, and at other points in the southern part of the state is 40 cents, while in Illinois the rate to Chicago from points twice the distance from Wisconsin is 22 1-2 cents. From New York 30 cents, 27 cents from Pennsylvania and 31 1-2 cents from Michigan and Ohio, placing the Wisconsin product at a disadvantage in competition with the cheese of other states. Many buyers have abandoned Wisconsin altogether, owing to lower rates elsewhere, at the same time declaring that Wisconsin cheese is superior in quality to any cheese made. Dealers here are obliged to sell their cheese at 11 cents a hundred less in many cases in order to compete, and the difference in the freight rates causes a loss to the trade. The rate from here to Milwaukee is the same as to Chicago, and it is singular enough that much of the cheese shipped to Milwaukee goes through Chicago, which is the distributing point. Formal complaint will doubtless be made to the railroad commissioner against the Milwaukee rate, and it is thought that it will bring about the desired reduction in the Chicago rate.

BODY OF DEAD MAN WEIGHS 700 POUNDS

New York, Feb. 17.—It required the utmost strength of twelve men to carry to they raved the casket containing the remains of Dennis Leahy, whose funeral has just been held. The dead man weighed 700 pounds. Leahy had acquired his enormous weight within the past ten years. When he turned the 500 pound mark, two years ago, a physician pronounced his increase in size as due to fatty degeneration of the heart and told his death was only a question of time. Appreciating the trouble his increment might cause his friends, Leahy hunted up a place of residence close to a cemetery, and it was only necessary to carry the casket a short distance.

BILL TO REPEAL THE WAR TAX PASSES THE HOUSE UNEXPECTEDLY

An Agreement Between Democrats and Republicans Was Reached on the Measure and Unanimously Passed—Danish West India Treaty Ratified.

Washington, Feb. 17.—The bill to repeal the war tax passed this morning unexpectedly. The rule to prevent the discussion desired by the democrats had been passed by a party vote. Richardson, democratic floor leader, announced that a debate would be fruitless as everyone was for the bill. It passed unanimously, by a party vote. The senate this afternoon ratified the treaty for the purchase of the Danish West Indies, unanimously.

SLAIN AND EATEN BY CANNIBALS; DIRE FATE OF A FRENCH PARTY

Twenty-Five Killed by Treacherous New Guinea Natives—Roasted Over a Fire for Food—Others Frightfully Mutilated—A Terrible Story.

Paris, Feb. 17.—La Patrie today publishes a letter received from its correspondent, M. Rouyer, a survivor of the massacre by cannibals of a French scientific expedition, at Silerua, New Guinea, Jan. 1. Rouyer relates that the yacht Salvat, with the mission on board, had anchored off the coast of New Guinea, and after that several of the explorers landed. After an apparently friendly reception from the natives, the latter treacherously attacked them during the night, murdering twenty-five of the party, including Baron Villars, Count de St. Romy, Ingenboeck, and Vriesland, wounding thirty-three, including the writer of the letter, M. Rouyer, the chief of the mission, and another Frenchman named Reimer. M. Rouyer writes: "We were all sleeping peacefully when there was a great uproar, and we were attacked by hundreds of natives carrying torches. Several of us were felled to the ground with clubs, hatchets and spears. Others were overpowered, carried away and bound to trees. I was among this number. I received a blow on the head from a club and fainted. "When I recovered consciousness, at 5 o'clock in the morning, I found myself tied hand and foot and surrounded by savages, who believing me dead, were keeping me for themselves. I saw the body of Baron de Villars near me bound to a tree. His body was naked, his head had been split open, his eyes gouged out, and his groin was horribly mutilated. The Count de St. Romy had been decapitated, and his head stuck on the end of a spear as a trophy. Ingenboeck was spitted on a bamboo and was being roasted over the fire. The savages were about to cut him up. "I waited my fate. I was afraid to move. My head hurt me dreadfully. All around me the ground was strewn with corpses. Suddenly a great clamor arose, followed by a lull. I opened my eyes and saw Dr. Porter and the remainder of the mission from the yacht firing on the cannibals. I shouted, and the rescuers ran to me and cut the bonds which bound me to the tree. The cannibals fled leaving thirty-two dead. The clothes of Veyes were found, but his body was missing. He had evidently been devoured by the savages during the night.

SAYS HE ACTED IN SELF DEFENSE

Holmes, the Appleton Man Who Shot His Step-sons, May Be Held as a Murderer.

Appleton, Wis., Feb. 17.—That John Holmes, who shot three of his step-sons at the Star brewery Saturday evening will be required to answer to the charge of murder seems probable today from the condition of Geo. Walter, his most seriously wounded victim. The injured man was taken from his home to the St. Elizabeth's hospital, but immediately suffered a serious collapse from the shock of being moved. He is now partially paralyzed and indications are that the spinal cord is affected. Dr. Ellsworth is of the opinion that the bullet is not in the lung, since Walter has had no hemorrhages. If he kills sufficiently an effort will be made to extract the bullet. The condition of Henry, the little boy, struck by a galvane bullet is favorable, although it is feared that he may lose one of his eyes. The wound of the third victim, Martin Walter, is not considered serious. Holmes has engaged P. H. Martin, of Green Bay to defend him. He has consulted with Martin at the jail during the day. Mrs. Holmes has visited her husband several times, conversing with him in the presence of the sheriff. She brought him clothes to replace those which it is said were torn from his back by the Walter boys before the shooting. Holmes talks freely about the shooting, but his stories are conflicting, though he stoutly maintains that he acted in self-defense.

GREAT STORM ON ATLANTIC COAST

Fears for Sailing Vessels and Other Craft Now at Sea—Snow is Falling.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 17.—A terrific gale prevails on the coast today. The snow is heavy and nothing can be seen off shore. There is great fear for sailing vessels at sea. The entire coast has been swept and there has been great suffering. New York, Feb. 17.—A blizzard is raging in New York and vicinity. In this city heavy snow has seriously interfered with all kinds of traffic. The blizzard is the worst ever seen here in three years. In the harbor many steamers are lying at anchor until the storm clears storm reports come from eastern Pennsylvania and Connecticut.

SMALLPOX NOT INCREASING

Milwaukee, Feb. 17.—Reports of smallpox cases in Wisconsin received by Dr. U. O. B. Wingate, Saturday, show a total of 281 cases and no deaths. The week before 279 cases were reported. Though last week showed two more cases than the week before, Dr. Wingate says that the disease has probably reached the highest point that it will reach in this state and that it will now gradually die out.

GIVE BANQUET TO OGDEN H. FETHERS

The 38th Anniversary of the Founding of the Order of K. of P's Will Be Celebrated. Chicago, Feb. 17.—The thirty-eight anniversary of the Order of the Knights of Pythias will be celebrated Wednesday by a banquet and reception at the Sherman house tendered Supreme Chancellor Ogden H. Fethers and Grand Chancellor of Illinois Charles H. Cushing.

Among the guests who have signified their intention to be present are President C. F. S. Neal of the Endowment Rank, Past Supreme Chancellor Henry Clay Berry, the grand chancellor of Indiana, who is mayor of the city of Indianapolis; Grand Chancellor Host of Wisconsin, Grand Chancellor Caro of Michigan, Grand Chancellor Porterfield of Iowa, Grand Chancellor Wheaton of Minneapolis, Minn.; General Barkley of Springfield and grand vice chancellor of Illinois. The attendance will be very large. Several lodges attending in a body, the first to engage a table being the grand chancellor's own organization, Junata lodge, No. 374, of Hinsdale. The programme as arranged is an interesting one, consisting of music and responses to toasts by many of the guests. The affair is under the direction of Deputy Grand Chancellors' association, an organization composed of all of all the deputies in Cook county.

HENS' EGGS TAKE A GREAT BIG JUMP

Went Up Two and One-Half Cents Per Dozen on the Chicago Wholesale Market. Chicago, Feb. 17.—Eggs today took a jump of 2 1-2 cents per dozen in the wholesale market. Sales were made as high as 31 cents. The advance was made in response to that of 3 cents in the New York market. Within a week the price has advanced 5 1-2 cents and there are no more eggs than the trade requires. It is one of the most remarkable seasons the egg dealers have ever experienced. The past four months' consumption has taken over 300,000 cases of cold storage eggs, in addition to the supplies of fresh, and the price has advanced to more than double the low figure of last spring. Chickens are high, and every encouragement is being used by farmers to keep the hens laying, but the visible supply of eggs does not increase. Of late prices in Chicago have been as high as in New York. Last week Chicago received 17,000 cases of thirty dozen each, or only half of the quantity a year ago.

MR. C. M. SCHWAB RETURNED HOME

President of the Big Steel Corporation Finds a Fertile Field in Europe. New York, Feb. 17.—President Charles M. Schwab of the United States Steel corporation returned from Europe yesterday on the St. Paul. During his visit he met the crowned heads of the most important cities on the continent, the leaders of finance and Europe's captains of industry. In an interview today he said that he had returned home imbued with the tremendous possibilities of the big steel trust as a factor in the world's trade. From ideas obtained from Europe's leaders in the commercial and financial spheres, he has worked out far-reaching plans for the development of the United States steel corporation beyond lines previously mapped out by the promoters. Mrs. Catt Re-Elected. Washington, Feb. 17.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt was today re-elected president of the National Woman's Suffrage association. New York, Feb. 17.—The pugilist, Jeffries, is confined to his bed today with tonsillitis, which threatens to develop into pneumonia. He caught a cold after a boxing bout in a Williamsburg theater on Saturday night and neglected it.

TO INCREASE MAIL CARRIERS' PAY; THEY DESIRE $1,200 AS A SALARY

Vigorous Efforts Being Made in Lower House of Congress to Pass a Bill for Their Benefit.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—A vigorous effort is to be made to secure the passage of the bill to classify and increase the pay of the letter carriers throughout the country. Business men, boards of trade, banks, newspapers, large manufacturing houses, and various concerns who recognize the value of efficient postal service have generally taken up the cause of the carriers. The author of the measure, Congressman Smith of Grand Rapids, Mich., speaks confidently of favorable consideration before the committee and before the house and senate. Speaking of the bill today, he said: "Measured by his responsibilities and the fidelity we require of him, the letter carrier is grossly underpaid. We expect letter carriers to move with the perfection of railroad trains, at any time on schedule time, in any kind of weather, and intrust to them the carrying of millions of dollars' worth of money and property in the course of pass the bill.

SCHLEY APPEAL TURNED DOWN

President Roosevelt's Finding Against Admiral on Main Points.

VERDICT TO STAND

All Commanders to Share Equally in Credit for Battle of Santiago.

SPOONER IS ADVISER

Washington, Feb. 17.—"It was a capital battle and the credit for the victory belongs first to Admiral Sampson, who planned and bore the responsibility of the engagement, and next to Commodore Schley and the other officers of the fleet, who handled the ships and guns. Admiral Sampson was not present at the battle, but no other officer assumed command or directed the American forces beyond maneuvering the ship on which he stood, and therefore the credit must be apportioned to the rank and responsibility of the officers engaged. "Commodore Schley's part in the battle was confined to the operations of the Brooklyn, and this was a creditable part, except the loop of that ship, which was a mistake. Commodore Schley's mistakes while in independent command of the flying squadron in May, such as the ill-timed operations, the retrograde movement, the disobedience of orders and the inaccurate and misleading reports, had been condoned by the McKinley administration and need not be revolved or revived, though there is no reason for reversing the verdict of the court of inquiry concerning them."

The foregoing is an accurate summary of President Roosevelt's judgment on the Schley case on the battle of Santiago. In response to the appeal of Admiral Schley from the findings of the naval court of inquiry. The president's conclusions in the celebrated case are nearly ready for publication, and will be given to the press in two or three days. Saturday morning the president thought he had finished his task, by long odds the most difficult one he has undertaken since he came to the White House, but as a result of his long conference with the leaders of congress in the cabinet room in the afternoon he has decided to make a few changes in the text, and so he is now at work upon it. The president invited Senators Allison, Aldrich, Spooner and Hanna, Speaker Henderson and Representatives Grosvenor and Cannon to hear a reading of his judgment in the Schley case. Mr. Roosevelt himself, standing at the head of the cabinet table, read the document with good elocutionary effect, and at the end invited his guests to offer any criticism which had occurred to them. This invitation was adopted by two or three of the gentlemen present, but only as to unimportant points.

BLACK EYE IS GIVEN CHICAGO

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Another black eye for Chicago and another feather in Kilpatrick's cap. The final result 47 to 30, was a complete surprise to Chicago and more or less unexpected at least, in the margin of victory on Wisconsin's part. The Badgers took seven firsts and four seconds, to Chicago's three firsts and four seconds. Of the four records broken, the Wisconsin men smashed two and Chicago two. The superiority of Kilpatrick's distance men was perhaps the feature of the meet. In the mile and again in the two mile, the whole Wisconsin field gained a half lap on their rivals and then raced in ahead in the most approved style. Unless there is ill luck in the first trick this result augurs well for the coming season.

NEIGHBORHOOD IS IN HOT QUARREL

charges That a Case of Scarlet Fever is Being Hidden in Spring Brook.

A. W. Bailey, who resides at Spring Brook, is somewhat wrought up over what he claims is neglect on the part of health officer Dr. Geo. W. Fife. Mr. Bailey alleges that there is a case of scarlet fever in the Hohmann family, on Armour St., and that the children belonging to the same family are allowed to attend the Spring Brook public school and expose the other children attending the same school.

Mr. Bailey states Dr. Fife was notified of the case and went down to the Hohmann home, but could not find only well children. Mr. Bailey further believes that the Hohmann child having the scarlet fever, was purposely hid from the health officer on his first visit and that a more thorough investigation should be made. Mr. Bailey keeps his own boy out of school through fear of infection.

Dr. Fife was seen this afternoon and states that he has done all that he could to discover any trace of a contagious disease and will thoroughly investigate again. Dr. Woods has examined the case and has not discovered any trace of scarlet fever. Dr. Fife attributes the trouble to neighborhood quarrel and ill founded rumor. There are two factions in the neighborhood and each faction says many hard things of the other.

About the Prodigal Son.

The Rev. Tibbitts delivered two excellent sermons yesterday. His morning theme was the three-fold love, "Feeling, Intellect and Will," all commendable, but incomplete without the force of the latter. In the evening he talked on "The Two Brothers," and by strong and convincing argument proved that the younger son, who made his journey into a far country, met with irreparable loss. Mr. Tibbitts is a hard thinker and good reasoner, and his audiences are increasing at each service.

Career and Character of Abraham Lincoln

An address by Joseph Choate, Ambassador to Great Britain, on the career and character of Abraham Lincoln—his early life—his early struggles with the world—his character as developed in the later years of his life and his administration, which placed his name so high on the world's roll of honor and fame, has been published by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway and may be had by sending six (6) cents in postage to F. A. Miller, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill.

Business and Social Session.

Saturday evening the members of Janesville Council No. 103 U. C. T. had a business and social session at the East Side Odd Fellows' hall. Six new members were initiated, and a social session and smoker followed. A lunch counter was well filled with "goodies" in the banquet hall, in charge of W. E. Clinton and Mr. Howland.

As the boys came in they stepped up to the lunch counter and took a hand out, and at the close of the business session ranged up at the table and received their share of the feed, consisting of "coffee and sinkers," "red hot" sandwiches. As a souvenir of the occasion, a corned pipe was presented to each one. The pipe was decorated with ribbons bearing the words "Smoke with us."

Grandpa Shimeall is rather poorly these days. An old fashioned spelling school was given in the grammar room last Friday evening about one hundred being present. It was the rule that the school should spell against the community. In the first "spell down" Master Vernie Truesdell, a member of the school won the victory. In the second trial Miss Helen Brand, also a member of the school carried off the honors. Much credit is due the teacher, Miss Ruby Gleason, for the good work displayed and the interest manifested in both school and community.

ORGANIZE STOCK COMPANY.

Baseball Park to be Purchased. Between Milton and Milton Junction.

Some of the business men of Milton and Milton Junction are interested in the construction of a baseball park to be located between the two villages. It is proposed to buy five acres of J. F. Kelley, lying east and north of Reuben Randolph's house on Madison avenue. The pieces comprise three lots facing the avenue and about three acres joining the lots on the north. The land will cost $1,000. A stock company will be organized. One hundred shares of $10 each are on the market. Several leading men of both villages have already subscribed for stock.—Milton Junction Telephone.

He Had The Pass.

Gen. Hughes, who recently returned from the Philippines, tells a story about an Irish volunteer private who was acting as guard over a captured Spanish storehouse, and had received orders to pass no one without a special pass from the provost marshal at the time, and when he drew near the storehouse, he found his stomach very close to a triangular Springfield bayonet and a heard in rich Milesian brogue:

"Halt! If yez come a step further I'll jam this inter yez!"

"Why nat?" asked the general.

"Never mind," said the private.

"I know me orders. 'Tis a pass yez must have from the provost marshal!"

"Well, I'm the provost marshal!"

said Gen. Hughes.

"Tis I that don't care if yez be the president. Devil a foot yez sit inside here till yez show me yer pass!"

The general drew out a blank book and scribbled a pass.

The private surveyed it and passed Gen. Hughes with the remark:

"Why didn't yez do that without all this palaver?"—Chicago Journal.

GAME WARDENS ARE OUTWITTED

Fifteen Fishermen Get the Best of Twelve Deputy Game Wardens on Lake Koshkonong.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 17.—Fifteen fishermen of Lake Koshkonong, who are believed to be violating the fish and game laws daily, outwitted a force of twelve deputy game wardens Thursday morning. The deputy wardens, led by Chief Deputy Charles Nelson of Madison, went to the lake early on Thursday morning in the hope of catching the violators of the law.

They had received word from the members of a sportsman's club, recently formed at the lake, and expected to swoop down unexpectedly on the fishermen. The latter, however, had evidently received some information, too, and had posted a sentry on a high bluff to sound a warning should the deputies appear. When Nelson and his men came in sight this sentry fired his gun three times and the fishermen took the woods.

One who evidently hadn't heard the signal came out on the lake and was chased three miles by Deputy Gratz of Madison, but finally got away. The deputies found a large number of set lines and other fishing tackle, which they destroyed. The state officials will probably make another raid in a few days.

Wrinkles are smoothed away by its healing touch. Brain tired and depressed people will find a cure in Rocky Mountain Tea. 35c. Smith's Pharmacy.

Indianan Farm Dead.

Marion, Ind., Feb. 17.—George Williams, aged 60, a retired business man, formerly of Nashville, Tenn., and late of Portland, Ind., was found dead yesterday on a fence in the country three miles from Marion. He had been missing since Friday, when he had started to walk to the home of John Turner. It is supposed that he was stricken with heart trouble.

NEWS FROM BELOIT.

Beloit, Wis., Feb. 17.—Indications are that Wm. J. Bryan will be greeted by a large audience when he speaks here tonight.

The "Girl from Maxims" at the opera house, Thursday night, was witnessed by one of the largest audiences of the season. The play was well presented by a capable company, but it is "Frenchy" in the extreme.

Charles F. Gammon, an old Beloit boy, now a missionary in China, and who will be remembered in Janesville as an old-time national guardsman, writes very interesting letters from time to time, describing conditions and costumes in China. Mr. Gammon predicted the Boxer uprisings in letters to the American Missionary board, to the New York newspapers and to the Free Press of Beloit, several months before they occurred.

SCHEME CATCHES MANY.

Turf-Gambling Proposition Causes Many Citizens to Mortgage Their Property.

Milwaukee, Feb. 17.—According to an Appleton dispatch, people in that vicinity have been wrought up to a high pitch of excitement over a turf-gambling scheme on the "get-rich-quick" order. A company which has its headquarters in one of the racing centers has had agents throughout the northern part of the state working the game. They have secured quite a following about Appleton and vicinity, which is growing daily, as those who went in first drew big dividends. Savings are drawn out to invest, and people mortgage their homes in order to get money to invest. In this particular pool it is stated that the promoters have race-horses of their own, which always win. It is stated that in Appleton and adjoining cities over $100,000 has been invested in recent months.

Kansas City's Shade Trees.

During the past year 12,000 shade trees have been planted in Kansas City, mostly at public expense. At a recent meeting the public improvements committee of the City Council authorized the planting of 3,320 trees along the various streets.

Farm Workers in Islands.

Representatives of Hawaiian planters are in the Philippines to ascertain whether it is feasible to import farm laborers from the archipelago to Hawaii. MILWAUKEE MAN IS MISSING

President of the Universal Casualty Company Has Disappeared.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 17.—The police have not been able to find Elwyn F. Larson, the missing president of the Universal Casualty company. The officers of the company have concluded Larson is not in this state, and that it is not probable he is in the country. Larson had $10,000 when he came to this city and he succeeded in getting a number of men in this city and Racine to invest in the stock of his company. The officers of the company have not discovered anything to throw any light upon Mr. Larson's operations. The company has stopped taking business, but the officers hope its affairs can be straightened out so that it will be able to continue.

Papermakers May Strike.

Kaukauna, Wis., Feb. 17.—The long expected strike of papermakers now seems certain in the near future. The Kaukauna Papermakers' Union, No. 26, unanimously voted yesterday to walk out at the Thilmany mill and combined Locks plant at 6 o'clock next Saturday night, unless the manufacturers conceded them the short-hour schedule, a demand for twelve hours off every week with the same pay as at present. These two mills represent a force of 500 men.

Queen Regent Signs Treaty.

Madrid, Feb. 17.—The queen regent will sign the treaty of friendship with the United States to-day. Gen. Weyler, the minister of war, will submit to the cortes a proposal to reduce the Spanish army by four army corps.

President's Son Gaining.

Groton, Mass., Feb. 17.—Continued good reports come from the sick room of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr. The president's wife said that her son had gained steadily all day and the prospects were entirely good.

Martial Law at Trieste.

Trieste, Austria, Feb. 17.—As a result of the strikes martial law has been proclaimed here. Altogether 100 arrests have been made. In some of the trades it is expected work will be resumed to-day.

Eight Killed at Naples.

Naples, Feb. 17.—It is reported that eight persons were killed by the collapse of two mansions in the Via Celerari. Several bodies have been exhumed from the ruins.

Cousin of Roosevelt Dead.

New York, Feb. 17.—Cornelius Roosevelt, the only surviving son of the late S. Weir Roosevelt and a cousin to President Roosevelt, is dead of heart disease.

The Midgets

have left us, but they will not soon be forgotten. Mr. and Mrs. Winner are agreeable people and made a very favorable impression on at least 15,000 men, women and children the past week. Favorably impressed also were many women with the splendid bargains we are offering. The Midgets brought many new faces to The Big Store who learned about the workings of the store and the inducements in Embroideries, Wash Dress Goods, Bed Spreads, Wool Dress Goods, Winter Garments, Hose, in fact Dry Goods generally were bigger in the same proportion that the store is bigger than other stores in Janesville or Southern Wisconsin. People who stay away from the Big Store miss seeing the best half of the Dry Goods, Cloaks, Ready-to-wear Garments, &c., and three-fourths of the Rugs, Matting, Linoleum and Carpets to be found in Janesville.

Last week we spoke about Black Dress Goods. We have received large shipments of Colored Dress Goods and are now showing an immense collection of the latest spring styles. Hardly any desirable new spring dress goods that are not represented in our stock or will be by March 1st, as we expect several more lots shortly.

Wool Waistings—75 new effects to show you. A large line of Side Band Creations in granite and cord weaves, plain and fancy, in black, cream and colors at 65c a yd. Henrietta, Granite, Albatross, Broadcloth, Serge, Poplin, &c. large variety of colors. No trouble to get suited here.

Trim- mings.

Pen pictures cannot do them justice. The new Band Trimmings in Embroidered Flower and Medallion creations are perfect dreams of loveliness; prices $1 to $3.50. Beautiful Persian Bands in several widths, real works of art. All Overs in white, black and colors—75 styles—75 cts. to $10. Nothing desirable missing in trimmings.

The Wash Cotton Goods.

Are receiving much attention. Women are surprised to find such an immense collection. Every color that one could wish for and a variety of fabrics that would suit the most exacting. We have a few displayed in our center window. Good time to select a few dresses before the assortment is broken.

SCENE FROM DAVID HARUM

One of the new stage beauties is appearing this season in the part of "Phyllis" in Esmond's "When we were Twenty One" and meeting with great success. She is Miss Dorothy Tennant, and although a Californian by birth, is a cousin of Lady Stanley, of England, wife of the great explorer. The Great Company will appear in this city tonight. In Esmond's "When we were Twenty One" numbers among its principal members: Walter Walker, W. J. Butler, John T. Burke, Albert Dorris, E. B. Tilton, W. E. Butterfield, Chas. C. Quinn, Thurston Hall, John Harney, Frank Cooley, Dorothy Tennant, Adlyn Hall, Mrs. W. J. Butler, Mildred St. Pierre, Irene Gaunt Tilton, Clara Barney, Elta Harris, George P. Lowe, Arthur Gordon. The tour is under the direction of William Morris and John T. Hall.

"David Harum" the comedy to be presented by Charles Frohman at the Myers Grand, Wednesday, Feb. 19, seems from all accounts to be really a dramatization of David Harum, not a drama based on one or two incidents of the book. It introduces all the up-State characters who appear in the novel and to reflect its most essential details, in other words to retain that subtle thing called "atmosphere," something which is so often lost in the process of transferring a book to the stage. Three acts suffice to show David Harum as banker, horse trader and match maker whose shrewdness and quaintness so well elaborated in every detail by the novelist made the book famous.

"King Dodo," the one native musical production, the success of which has paralleled the famous English farce "Flora" will be seen in this city in March and the announcement of its presentation will undoubtedly evoke abnormal interest from the fact that its original presentation took place in the metropolis of Chicago, at the Studebaker Theatre, in which city it attained the longest run and received the most lavish praise of any theatrical attraction ever produced there.

MANY KILLED ON RAILWAYS

Illinois Central Freight Crashes
Into the Rear of a Passenger Train.

HEAD-ON COLLISION IN IOWA.

Three Injured in a Smashup Near Carbondale—Engineer and Fireman Lose
Their Lives in a Pennsylvania Wreck,
Owing to Disobedience of Orders.

Litchfield, Ill., Feb. 17.—Two persons met death and five were injured in a collision between the "Diamond Special" of the Illinois Central Road and freight train No. 53 at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The collision occurred at a point five miles north of Litchfield, and was remarkable in that the fast passenger was ahead of the freight and that both trains were moving.

The dead: E. B. Burns, Frank McIntyre.

The injured: C. W. Castles, Jack Dean, Michael Connolly, A. M. Dearborn, E. Eaton.

The "Diamond Special" was moving at a rate of twelve miles an hour when the freight crashed into the rear sleeper. A heavy fog hung over the country and both trains were picking their way carefully.

It is said the passenger would have been traveling faster had there not been some trouble with the locomotive's mechanism. The engineer on the freight engine declared that the fog was so thick he could not see 100 feet ahead.

Porter Eaton and Jack Dean had a remarkable escape. They were standing near the rear platform of the last Pullman when the last noticed a bright light in the mist. He called the attention of the colored man to it, and with one look the porter shouted to the boy to run for his life.

Both leaped away, and were half way down the aisle when the giant freight engine struck it. The lad was within five feet of the freight engine when rescued.

Eldora, Iowa, Feb. 17.—A fatal head-on collision between an Iowa Central passenger train, south-bound, and a single engine, occurred four miles south of Eldora on the Iowa Central Railway at 11 o'clock Saturday night.

The killed: William Frew, Elmer Ogilvie, Frank Patton, John White, Lawrence A. Jegan of Chicago, a traveling salesman, was badly bruised about the hips. Some of the other passengers were bruised and shaken up, but their injuries are not serious. Engineer White reversed his engine, clung to his post and at the cost of his own life saved the passengers on his train.

Carbondale, Ill., Feb. 17.—Three persons were seriously injured at noon yesterday in a head-end collision at Texas Junction, six miles west of this city, on the Illinois Central Railroad. Passenger train No. 26, Conductor Bryan, collided with an extra freight. The passenger engineer, Robert Allen, baggage man Charles Ashley and Mrs. Dr. J. S. Lewis, all of this city, were seriously injured. The trainmen on the passenger jumped, saving their lives.

Connellsville, Pa., Feb. 17.—Engineer T. W. Lyons of McKees Rocks, and his fireman, P. W. Desot of Buffalo, were killed in a head-end collision of freight trains on the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny division of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad at Round Bottom Saturday night. The trains came together as the result of disobeying orders by one of the crews. The victims were pinned under the wreckage four hours, Lyons dying ten minutes before the rescuers reached him and Desot surviving but twenty minutes after being taken out.

Oil Spring in the Rockies.
Denver, Feb. 17.—Oozing out at the base of Pike's Peak is a spring of oil, is the report that reaches here from Colorado City, whose inhabitants are much wrought up over the strike. The Telluride Reduction company is sinking wells on its property near that city. Hundreds of men flocked to the scene as the news of the strike was spread, and samples of oil were secured by scores. The samples were exhibited on the streets of the city and in store windows. Many exaggerated reports were in circulation. One was to the effect that a two-inch stream of oil was liberated, and later that the oil overflowed the top of the well, also that pumps were lowered and oil was being pumped into a receiving tank.

Illinois Naval Cadet Is Third.
Baltimore, Md., Feb. 17.—As a result of the semi-annual examination at the naval academy F. W. Sterling of Illinois becomes the third of seven star men. The star men are those who have been perfect in studies for the term of one year. In the second class is A. H. Van Kuren of Michigan. In the third class C. A. Richter, Wisconsin, and in the fourth class is R. E. Ingersoll of Indiana.

Decrease in South African Army.
London, Feb. 17.—The army estimates show a decrease of 30,000 men on the pay rolls in South Africa and a satisfactory reduction in the general cost of the army service.

Schwab Back from Europe.
New York, Feb. 17.—President Charles M. Schwab of the United States Steel corporation returned from Europe yesterday on the St. Paul.

BRAIN FOOD.

Is of little benefit unless it is digested. Nearly everyone will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains. For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful.

Only men engaged in a severe, outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health.

As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and grains, fruit and vegetables should constitute the bulk of food eaten.

But many of the most nutritious foods are difficult to digest, and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat largely of grains and vegetables where the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly.

It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years' experience have proven Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be a very safe, pleasant and effective digestive and remedy which may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels nor any particular organ but only on the food eaten. They supply what weak stomachs lack, pepsin, diastase, and by stimulating the gastric glands increase the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid.

People who make a daily practice of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal are sure to have perfect digestion which means perfect health.

There is no danger of forming an injurious habit as the tablets contain absolutely nothing but natural digestives; cocaine, morphine and similar drugs have no place in a stomach medicine, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are certainly the best known and most popular of all stomach remedies.

Ask your druggist for a fifty cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous energy.

Veterans Cheer Confederates.

Binghamton, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Vigorous cheering by members of the Grand Army of the names of Stonewall Jackson and Robert E. Lee caused a sensation here Saturday evening, when Gen. John B. Gordon spoke on the last days of the Confederacy. Gen. Gordon, who is the only living Confederate brigadier general, was escorted by the Grand Army posts to the lecture hall, and veterans of the G. A. R. filled the platform. At the mention of the names of Lee and Jackson they cheered as loudly as for Grant, though a large number of those who applauded had lost limbs at Antietam.

Man's Leg Causes Sensation.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 17.—Sheriff Johnson and Coroner Curson, accompanied by a detail of morbidly curious citizens, went to the Livingston farm, two miles east of this city, yesterday to investigate the finding of a man's leg dismembered at the thigh. The limb had recently been severed. Whether a crime has been committed or whether careless surgeons thus disposed of the leg has not been determined.

Woodworkers Lacked Out.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 17.—Saturday night nearly all the woodworkers of the city were laid off by their employers. About the middle of January the workers served notice on their employers that they would expect an advance of wages of more than 5 per cent May 1. They employers said they could not pay it, and decided to force the issue now rather than in the busy season.

F. C. Andrews Again Arrested.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 17.—Frank C. Andrews was arrested Saturday on a second warrant charging him with misapplying $200,000 of the bank's funds. Others are likely to be involved, as it is stated that Andrews was short the $200,000 as far back as Dec. 18. Andrews' bond was fixed at $15,000. He did not have bondsmen in court and was taken to the county jail.

Antarctic Explorer Arrives.

New York, Feb. 17.—Charles E. Borchgrevink, the antarctic explorer, arrived in New York yesterday on the steamship Etruria. Last night he told in an interview of how, in 1899, he and a party of scientists had reached 78 degrees 50 minutes south latitude, about 800 miles from the south pole and the most extreme southern point that any man has ever reached.

No Rebels in Batangas.

Manila, Feb. 17.—The insurrection in Batangas province is practically at an end, and the troops under Gen. J. Franklin Bell have made almost a clean sweep of the district. It is not believed that all the insurgent arms have been captured or surrendered, but that a number of them have been taken by the insurgents to other provinces or safely hidden.

Boy in Shooting Affray.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 17.—As the result of a feud between West End boys, Willie Ledger, 16 years old, was shot and instantly killed by Fretwell Shock, aged 10 years. Shock is a prisoner. He admits he killed Ledger, but says he aimed at one of Ledger's companions. "That fellow had me down, and the gang of them would have beat me to death if I had not shot," said Shock. The boys of both factions are the sons of well-to-do parents.

Flames Destroy Tennessee Town.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 17.—About two-thirds of the business portion of Woodbury, Cannon county, burned last night, the loss being estimated from $50,000 to $75,000. The fire originated in the grocery of R. W. Shocklett, from unknown causes. The flames, fanned by a breeze, spread rapidly to buildings on both sides, despite the efforts of citizens, who rallied to the assistance of the merchants.

Volcanic Disturbance in Mexico.

Chilpancingo, Mexico, Feb. 17.—Great alarm prevails here as well as in Chilpancingo and Tixtla at the discovery of smoke issuing from the openings in the summit of Temalcacatlalco on the road between this city and Chilpancingo. There are seven openings about 150 meters from the crest of the mountain, from which thick smoke pours, clearly of volcanic origin.

Knox College Celebrates.

Galesburg, Ill., Feb. 17.—Knox college graduates, students and professors Saturday celebrated the sixty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the school with a banquet to the senior class. G. M. Avery acted as toastmaster and announced a large contribution from the class of 1840 to the endowment fund.

Wood Alcohol Kills Indians.

Guthrie, Okla., Feb. 17.—Ne-Ka-Sha, Hugh Miller, and Allen Gibson, full-blood Osage Indians under 30 years of age, drank a concoction of wood alcohol, vanilla, cologne and Florida water, which killed them.

Jeff and Fitz Are Matched.

New York, Feb. 17.—Champion James Jeffries and Bob Fitzsimmons have signed articles of agreement to fight twenty rounds before the club of the largest purse on or about May 15.

Fire at Moweaqua.

Moweaqua, Ill., Feb. 17.—Early yesterday morning the air-shaft (anthracite) of the Moweaqua Coal company was destroyed by fire. All work has been suspended.

Earl Cadogan's Immense Estate.

Some idea of Earl Cadogan's wealth may be gathered from the fact that some thirteen or fourteen years ago he expended a quarter million pounds on the purchase of the Cliford estate, in Suffolk, and the rebuilding of the house. Shortly after this he presented an extensive site in Chelsea, known as Blocklands, to the Guinness trust, for the erection of workmen's dwellings. It is probable that during the next few years his wealth will be doubled.

Prehistoric Drawings of Animals.

A cavern has lately been discovered at Cambareilles, in France, whose walls are covered with prehistoric drawings. It is about a mile distant from the cavern of La Vache, where other drawings of the same sort were found in 1895. There are more than a hundred sketches of reindeer, mammoths (fourteen sketches), antelopes, bisons, and perhaps one of a human face. Some of them are covered with incrustations. These drawings are very ancient and testify to an artistic faculty in prehistoric man. It is difficult to conceive what utility they represent.

Vast Source of Gold.

One of the richest territories in the world, as riches are counted, is western Australia, and its wealth consists of that which mankind has been striving after ever since he made it an article of value—gold. There is gold in abundance in western Australia, scattered in irregular patches all over the state. Some of these patches are one hundred miles in length by thirty or forty in breadth. To-day, it is said that the total area of the gold fields of western Australia is over 324,000 square miles, or just one-third of the area of the colony itself.

Bathing Dolls.

There are many bathing dolls this year, real little tub dolls, and ever so many things in the doll world run to bath-tubs and bathing arrangements. The bathing dolls are of celluloid and of Parian and are made with the idea that they will take frequent baths. They cost all prices, from 10 cents to $2.50, and the elaborate bathing outfit will cost more than that.—New York Times.

Opposes Negro Little.

Vincennes, Ind., Feb. 17.—Residents of Wheatland were surprised yesterday morning to find the following notice posted in conspicuous places: "Notice, Feb. 15, 1902—Notice is hereby given the public: Any man who employs negro labor after the first day of March or harbors or rents to any negro lands, their houses will be burned after the first day of April." The notices bore the signature, "Fire Bug." The warning has created a sensation, and the authorities are endeavoring to locate the person who posted the notices.

Provides for Employees.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 17.—James W. Tufts, the millionaire soda fountain manufacturer who died recently, provided in his will for the distribution of $80,000 among his employees in amounts ranging from $100 to $500. To each of his five foremen and the six head men in the counting-room of his establishment he left $500; to each of the 320 married men in his employ, $200, and to each of the eighty unmarried men, $100. Only those who were employed by the company four years ago are to receive awards.

Shot a Burglar.

Carbondale, Ill., Feb. 17.—James Norris, one of the most noted desperadoes in southern Illinois, was shot while attempting to enter the residence of Ernest H. Walters at Marion. Norris was implicated in the Williamson county vendetta, in which seven men were shot from ambush and Marshall Crain was hanged. He was tried and convicted of the murder of James Henderson, who was killed while asleep. Norris was sent to the penitentiary for fifty years, but was pardoned after serving twenty-five years.

King's Salary Was For Month.

Chief Lennah, of the Masai tribe, in British East Africa, gets the small sum of $22 per month as ruler of that country. He exercises absolute power, which is based on superstition, for he is principal medicine man, as well as commander-in-chief and king.

CATARRH

Catarrh has become such a common disease that a person entirely free from this disgusting complaint is seldom met with. It is customary to speak of Catarrh as nothing more serious than a bad cold, a simple inflammation of the nose and throat. It is, in fact, a complicated and very dangerous disease; if not at first, it very soon becomes so.

The blood is quickly contaminated by the foul secretions, and the poison through the general circulation is carried to all parts of the system.

Salves, washes and sprays are unsatisfactory and disappointing, because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. does. It cleanses the blood of the poison and eliminates from the system all catarrhal secretions, and thus cures thoroughly and permanently the worst cases.

Mr. T. A. Williams, a leading dry-goods merchant of Sparta, N. C., writes: "For years I had a severe case of Catarrh, with all the disagreeable effects which belong to that disease, and which make life painful and unendurable. I used medicines prescribed by leading physicians and suggested by numbers of friends, but without getting any better. I then began to take S. S. S. It had the desired effect, and cured me after taking eighteen bottles. In my opinion S. S. S. is the only medicine now in use that will effect a permanent cure of Catarrh."

is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the greatest of all blood medicines of all blood diseases and trunks.

If you have Catarrh don't wait until it becomes deep-seated and chronic, but begin at once the use of S. S. S., and send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases and write our physicians about your case.

"WILFUL WASTE"

That old copybook maxim finds its most forceful application in the waste of vitality, which is called "burning the candle at both ends." A woman is often tempted beyond her strength by domestic or social demands. Some day she awakens from this waste of strength to the woeful want of it. She has become weak, nervous and miserable.

For weak, nervous, run-down women, there is no better tonic and nerve than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It restores the appetite, quiets the nerves and gives refreshing sleep. It cures local diseases peculiarly, womanly which undermine the general health. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

"No doubt you have forgotten me, but after you read my letter you will remember me," writes Mrs. Annie H. Moring, of 233 7th Avenue, S. W., Roanoke, Va. "In the year 1897, I wrote to you for advice, which you gave me free of charge. When I wrote to you I was a wreck; I could not walk straight for pains in my abdomen; could not sit down, lie down, or get any ease at all. I had what was called the best doctor here, but did not get any better until I went through a course of your medicine. I took eight bottles each of 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' and ten bottles of the 'Pleasant Pellets.' I tell you the medicine made a cure of me."

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness.

WEATHER FORECAST.
Partly cloudy tonight; Tuesday slightly colder.

TEXAS AND REFORM

Texas is about the last state in the Union where anything radical would be expected in the way of reform, and yet a spasm of virtue has struck the state, and like all other states, troubled with the same ambition, corporations are the first thing to be attacked.

It is just about as natural to fight a corporation, as it is to breathe. The average citizen gets the notion that any concern which divides its capital in the way of stock, among a large lot of partners, must necessarily be corrupt and so corporations are common targets. In Texas it happens to be fire insurance companies. The legislature has recently passed laws which are so obnoxious and burdensome, that the companies refuse to comply. Eighteen of them, including all the strong foreign representatives, have already left the state, and many more are preparing to follow. The state don't deserve fire protection, and it is in a fair way not to have it.

This is simply another case of populists' lunacy, the same that cursed Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa, and some of the far western states. Nebraska was obliged to modify her insurance laws, before they became operative. If this had not been done, there wouldn't have been a company left in the state. Iowa fought railroads until she bankrupted every local road in the state. In attempting to fix freight rates, she succeeded in closing every wholesale house of importance in the state. Minnesota, with her reform governor, is attempting the same thing now. If she succeeds, she will kill her two principle cities deadlier than a door nail.

Wisconsin is just now in the throes of a reform administration, and after bleeding the people for a one million dollar school tax, an effort is made to saddle the blame on the railroads, because another million wasn't sliced out of them. It is sometimes well to consider who pays the tax. There is no room for discussion so far as the one mill tax was concerned. Every tax payer has a voucher, that he should preserve as a souvenir of the reform administration. He has no voucher for his share of the railroad tax, but he paid it just the same. The earnings of railroads are all contributed by people, and a part of these earnings go to pay the taxes. A railroad company is not a bank. Its money is kept in active circulation and it usually owes enough to bankrupt it, if it was obliged to settle on short notice.

Wisconsin railroads pay about half the running expenses of the state now. They might as well pay the whole thing and increase their freight charges enough to make it up, then the people could pay the bill without grumbling and the one mill tax could be refunded.

Railroad incorporations are rather intangible things. They are managed by a few trusty intelligent officers, but these officers are not the corporation, they are simply the agents, instructed to collect enough of the people's money for services rendered to pay expenses and show a reasonable profit on the investment. It is always well to remember that the people pay the freight. This is just as true of insurance companies. The latter are more independent than railroads, because they can pack up and move on short notice, as they are now doing in Texas.

The administration of any state that devotes all its time and energy to fighting corporations is a theoretical administration and never creditable to a commonwealth.

ONE CENT POSTAGE.

A great deal of discussion is going on, both in and out of congress, over the establishment of a one cent postage rate. The argument used against the measure is, that the department is not practically self supporting. If there is any sense in that sort of an argument, it don't appear on the surface. The people are not advised of the fact that any department of government is self supporting. The army and navy certainly are not, neither are the judiciary or legislative branches.

There is just as much sense in claiming that one should be a revenue getter, as the other. The postal service is nearer to all the people, than any other department, and it should be not only perfect in its working, but prices should be as low as accorded by any country. There is more merit in a reduction of rates, than in ship subsidy, oleo margarine or any other bill, than seeks to benefit classes. The masses, regardless of location or condition, are interested in a low rate of postage, and it is the masses that contributed to the life and prosperity of government. When war threatens, the masses contribute freely to the ranks of army and navy, and foot the bills without complaint. There will not be a murmur of criticism if congress votes for a penny postage.

IMPORTANT COMBINATION.

The air has been full of rumors for some time, that a great ocean combination was forming that would parallel, in some respects, the American Steel combine. The deal has finally been consummated, with J. Pierpont Morgan representing American interests. The headquarters will be in London, under the direction of Henry Welding of the Leyland line. One hundred and twenty steamships representing the property of the Dominion, Leyland American, White Star and Atlantic companies, are in the combine, with plenty of money to make the enterprise a success.

Mr. Morgan is largely responsible for the deal. He is recognized not only at home, but abroad, as one of the great financiers of the age. Everything that he touches, prospers, not because of luck or chance, but because of well directed intelligent effort, by a mind that is capable of grasping great problems.

The government will not be asked to contribute a dollar in the way of subsidies. Men of Mr. Morgan's caliber, are not seeking public or private contributions. It is safe to say that the combined fleet, in which he is largely interested, will touch at every port of entry, and that prominent among the colors, displayed at every mast head, will be the stars and stripes. The country needs more Morgans and fewer Bryans, men who work with hand and brain, and give their tongues a rest.

CHARLES KENNEDY WHEELER.

While Kentucky is enjoying a little old time amusement at home, killing off the inhabitants in the mountain districts, their representative in congress, Charles Kennedy Wheeler, is making all kinds of a donkey of himself in Washington.

His attack on England, and insult to Germany will fall flat, except in the ranks of the democratic party, where consternation at results is gravely apprehended.

Mr. Wheeler will doubtless be elected to stay at home. Kentucky like every other state has a few men who masquerade under the guise of statesmen, who are a disgrace to the commonwealth, which they have the misfortune to represent. Wheeler belongs to this class. Henry Watterson, the Louisville aspirant for presidential honors should take him in training.

The easiest way to settle the Cuban tariff question, is by annexation, and this would be highly satisfactory to the business interests, as well as to the intelligence of the island. Cuba as a state, is much nearer, than Cuba as a struggling republic. Annexation will be the final outcome, and it might better come soon for all concerned.

It is perfectly natural that the nation should be interested in the president's family, because of the honor which the office confers. The serious illness of the boy "Ted," caused wide spread anxiety and his recovery is heralded with pleasure. He may not be an unusual boy, but he enjoys an enviable position, as the president's son.

Thirty club women, in Waukesha, issued the last number of the Waukesha Freeman. It was a breezy number and a credit to the club. The paper was well loaded with advertising and the enterprise, realized a comfortable sum for a Milwaukee hospital.

The city of Dubuque has a monstrosity in the way of an egg eater. Phil. Meloy, on a wager, ate seven dozen raw eggs in ten minutes, and topped off on a pall oysters. If Iowa has many Meloy's, the price of hen fruit will advance materially.

If you can't be an oil inspector, may be you can be a game warden. The woodchuck has turned out to be a liar, and more wardens are needed to watch the hole.

PRESS COMMENT.

Iowa Co Republican: The claim is sometimes made that the opposition to La Follette is entirely personal. This is not true. He is being opposed by thousands who have no official acquaintance with him, but who as steadfast Republicans, realized that the party is put in jeopardy by his manifestation of one-man power. His treatment of all Republicans, who have not been in perfect accord with him during his political career has been such that the party has been in a state of insurrection ever since his inauguration.

Madison Journal: A Chicago department store has just closed a contract for a page advertisement a day for an entire year. The amount involved is almost $120,000. The contract is one of the largest ever placed in this country. John Wanamaker, of New York and Philadelphia, was the first merchant to take a page of space for a year. At the present time he has half a dozen such pages running in different New York and Philadelphia papers.

Superior Telegram: All cities are discovering that it is much easier to secure a donation from Mr. Carnegie for a library than it is to secure a site which shall be satisfactory to all citizens. Superior passed through this ordeal and was quite successful. Madison is now experiencing the common trouble and is in the midst of a good sized contest.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The Milwaukee Free Press ought to be competent to judge of "the influencing of newspapers by the payment of money."

Grant Co. Herald: It is evident from the manner in which the governor is lavishing this section of the state with appointments to federal positions that he is somewhat concerned over the situation here and is not confident of having "Grant county in his vest pocket." Shake the plums this way, governor. Ther's hats to catch 'em.

Lake Geneva Herald: It is gratifying to note that among the famine conditions said to be threatening other countries of the world, there are only two that are menacing the United States. One is a famine of railroads, to haul the cars, in spite of the increased mileage of the past few years and the other is a famine of cars to haul the produce, in spite of the fact that the shops are working night and day to make up deficit.

Grant County Herald: In the interest of harmony what's the matter with turning down both La Follette and Whitehead and get up a new ticket entire. Put Geo. Goldsmith on for governor and H. E. Baethe for lieutenant governor. Then the ticket could draw support from both factions and would be a sure winner. Anything for harmony.

Milwaukee News: The passage by the house of representatives of the bill placing a tax of 10 cents a pound upon oleomargarine indicates that the rural statesmen know which side their bread is buttered on, even if they have rather hazy notions as to the legitimate use of the power to tax.

Catholic Citizen: Those strong minded individuals who say that they can drink and "let it alone too, if they want to" might try the latter experiment during lenten season. We fear that their will power might disappoint them.

Hudson Star Times: The duty of a governor is to execute the laws, not the people who do not agree with him.

SMILES.

Miss Homely—As for myself, I should prefer to be kissed to death.

An Unkind Member—But where could you get an executioner?—February Smart Set.

Kneker—"When I was alone with Miss Smith in the parlor, I proposed. I told her she was the light of my life."

Roeder—"And she—"

Kneker—"Oh, she went out."—Tit-Bits.

She Knew—Teacher—"Spell 'tray.'"
Elsie—"T-ray." "Correct. Now, then, when the 't' is taken away, what is left?" "A lot of dishes and things to be washed."—Philadelphia Press.

Appropriate—Cassidy—"O! want a wreath of flowers, and put on it: 'He rests in peace.'"
Florist—"Don't you mean: 'He rests in peace?'"
Cassidy—"O! mane phwat O! sel. 'Tis for Casey that was blowed up in the quarry."—Philadelphia Press.

"Say," said the man with the saw-low complexion, "you have 'plum pudding' spelled wrong on the bill of fare."

"How's that?" asked the proprietor of the luncheonhouse.

"Well, its heavy enough to be spelled 'plumb.'"
—Philadelphia Record.

"Mamma, does little black girls go to heaven?"

"Yes, dear replied the mother, "of course they do."

Lulu was quiet for a time, then she said aloud but apparently to herself:

"Doodness, they must be awful bizzy keepin' their wings blacked up!"

BAD BUTTER.

Through the house the famous oleomargarine bill has been crowded after earnest, strenuous endeavor, but with a provision attached from the liking of the farmer "push" behind the measure. This amendment merely provides for the inspection and branding of old butter when worked over and doctored with chemical concoctions which will enable it to be palmed off on the innocent public as a fresh, pure, wholesome article. A prodigious campaign was waged by the virtuous farmer to defeat this most just proposal, but rank as the stuff at which the amendment is aimed, the fight failed. The soldiers could see no justice in discriminating against oleomargarine, usually made under reputable auspices, and in favor of foul, rancid products of dairy and creamery, simply because the one is not manufactured from milk, while the other is.

But yet another modification is desirable. If we are to forbid the coloring of oleomargarine, let also a prohibition be placed upon the art of altering the hue of butter. The trick in both cases is played for the same purpose—to render the article more pleasant to the eye and thus facilitate its sale. The doctrine of permitting one kind of butter to be colored for a commercial end and of interdicting similar treatment of another is a species of discrimination which may seem warrantable to legislators angling for the rural vote, but it is not calculated to find favor among those who want fair play between all classes of our citizens.—Madison Democrat.

In connection with this service requisition has been made for six (6) U. S. iron collection boxes, which you will please have your rural carriers place at the following points:

Route No. 2, 1 at Morton corner.
1 at S. E. corner Sec. 23, Harmony Twp.

Route No. 3, 1 at Mc Kuge corner.
1 at Kemmerer corner.

Route No. 4, 1 at Willowdale P. O.
1 at Long corner.

The Postmaster General by order dated March 28th, 1901, requires that all rural routes hereafter to be established, shall be equipped with boxes to be selected from accompanying list. You will please report whether the patrons of the proposed service have complied with this requirement.

You are directed to see that your rural carriers leave the Post Office for the delivery of their mail at 8 a. m., and that they return their collection by 3 p. m.

The suggestion has been made to the Honorable second assistant postmaster general that Star route No. 2, 119, between Janesville and Richmond, and Star route, No. 23, 133, between Janesville and Willowdale, can properly be discontinued after the establishment of this service; and the attention of the representative in congress has been directed to the desirability of requesting of the Hon. Assistant Fourth Postmaster General an order discontinuing the fourth class post-offices at Rock Prairie and Willowdale, Rock county.

Upon the discontinuance of the Star route you are directed to instruct your rural carrier on Route No. 2, to carry closed pouches to and from the post-offices at Johnston and Johnston Center, containing all mail to and from these offices.

Rural letter carriers must not act as agents, salesmen or solicitors for express companies, letter-box manufacturers, wholesale houses, corporations or firms, or engage in any business or avocation which would interfere with the proper performance of their official duties. They may act as news agents, sell newspapers or periodicals on their own account, or accept and collect subscriptions for the same. When carriers receive newspapers or periodicals by express, or other means outside the mails to be sold or delivered on their routes, they, as news agents will be required to pay postage on such matter, at the second class rate of postage (one cent per pound), except in the case of county newspapers, which are mailed free to subscribers residing in the county in which they are published.

This order is not intended to prohibit carriers from performing private commissions for the accommodation of the patrons on their routes, so long as their doing so does not interfere with the regular and prompt performance of their duties.

It is requested that all patrons use a uniform box and have them located in convenient place so that carrier can reach them from rig.

WAS THE VICTIM OF A BAD FALL

F. M. Hibbard Taken with Heart
Failure and Fell Down Stairs in Baptist Church.

F. M. Hibbard was a victim of a bad fall last evening while leaving the Baptist church. He had attended evening service and had a seat in the gallery and was just at the top of the stairs on his way out when he was taken with an attack of heart failure and pitched forward on his face down the stairs.

He struck on the first landing head first and lay there until assistance arrived. He was insensible and suffering from a cut on the left side of his head above the temple. A call was at once sent in for the patrol wagon and a doctor. The call was answered at once and Dr. Joe Whiting who came with the wagon had him taken to Mrs. Henderson's hospital on South Main street.

Mr. Hibbard remained unconscious for about two hours, but finally came to. He had a cut about one inch and a half long over the left temple that looked as if he had struck against a sharp corner or the bottom strip in his fall.

Dr. Whiting stated that Mr. Hibbard has had a weak heart ever since he had an attack of pneumonia, and would be subject to these spells. He hopes however to bring him out all right.

SUBURBAN TRANSFER LINE

Wm. Ward Carries the Employees of The Fisher Tobacco Co.

Wm. Ward, the East side rayman, is running a suburban transfer line. He has the contract for carrying the employees of the Fisher & Fisher tobacco ware house, consisting of about forty persons, from the corner of West Milwaukee and North Jackson streets to the warehouse, near Oak Hill cemetery. The warehouse is at such a great distance from the city that asporters cannot be obtained without free transportation each way night and morning.

The working people rendezvous at the corner of Grubb's clothing store each morning about half past six o'clock and Mr. Ward carries them out in a carryall, having to make two trips to carry the forty people. After the day's work is finished the asporters are returned to town. Mr. Ward is employed by Mr. Fisher to carry the asporters, who ride free. The warehouse has work in sight for at least three months.

AN OFFICER FOR SALVATION ARMY

Chief Hogan Says the Disturbances
Caused by Unruly Boys Must Be Stopped.

The Salvation army had another of their religious disturbances yesterday afternoon. The army allowed a lot of small boys to attend their meetings that are not looking for religion but disturbance. They let a number of them into the meeting yesterday afternoon and had hardly started the services when the trouble began.

The boys drew out of the front door and down Main street to the engine house with the leaders of the Army in full pursuit. Captain Taylor, Fred Little and Drummer Pearle followed the kids down the alley and along the river bank to the Milwaukee street bridge where the boys darted up the stairway and escaped.

The Army headquarters on North Main street are the scene of many disturbances of this kind. Instead of putting a man at the door and keeping out the young boys that they know will do all they can to break up the meetings they let them all in and by the time the services are about half through there is a general stampede of boys with the Army in full pursuit.

Chief Hogan says he will put a officer at the meetings hereafter and see that the unruly boys are kept out.

When The Prince Comes

In various sections of the country preparations are being made for the reception of Prince Henry of Prussia. It is not often we have royal personages as guests, but when we do have them we generally treat them in a style as nearly royal as our democratic conventions will allow.

Washington, New York, Chicago and Boston are in a fine fury of expectation. They are as busy and flustered as our grandmothers used to be on that eventful occasion when the minister came to tea.

The German embassy at Washington in particular has been the scene of activity, and when the prince comes he will find everything spick and span. The embassy is a substantial brick structure which stands at the center of the high terrace on Massachusetts avenue, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets. It was purchased for the German government by Baron von Thielmann in 1896 and is richly and appropriately furnished.

The suit of apartments which will be occupied by Prince Henry is in the western wing on the second floor. It includes ten rooms and is separated from the drawing room suit by a wide hall adorned with medieval armor and weapons. The ballroom of the embassy, where the state dinners will be served, is decorated with flags of the empire and life-sized portraits of the emperor and empress.

Dr. Theodor von Holleben, the German ambassador, has occupied the post since 1897. He is a native of Bremen and took his degree of doctor of laws at Heidelberg. Dr. von Holleben is about sixty years old and a confirmed bachelor.

In the absence of Countess Quadt, wife of the first secretary, Mrs. von Rebeur Paschwitz is the chaperone of the embassy. She will preside over any hospitalities that the ambassador may give to which ladies are invited. Mrs. von Rebeur Paschwitz is the wife of the naval attaché, who will also be a prominent figure in the festivities.

Though Prince Henry will stop at the German embassy while in Washington, he will be the guest of the nation during his stay in this country. This means that all his expenses will be paid by the United States government. To provide the funds for his reception and entertainment an appropriation of $40,000 will be inserted in the urgent deficiency bill. This sum will be disbursed under the direction of the secretary of state. It will be used to pay carriage, lodging, railroad and other necessary bills.

President Roosevelt has appointed a committee of government officials to look after the prince while here. This committee is composed of David Jayne Hill, assistant secretary of state; Major General H. C. Corbin, United States army; and Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, United States navy. Count A. von Quadt, first secretary of the German embassy, will act with the committee.

How and by Whom Henry of Prussia Is to Be Entertained

The committee will meet Prince Henry on his arrival in New York on Feb. 22, accompanying him to Washington that night and attending on all the journeys he will make while here. A special naval squadron has been organized to meet the royal guest in New York bay. This squadron is made up of the battleship Illinois, which will be Admiral Evans' flagship, and the cruisers Olympia, Cincinnati and San Francisco, with perhaps some smaller craft. The forts at Sandy Hook and the Narrows will fire a salute when the Kronprinz Wilhelm passes those points, and as the big German liner reaches Tompkinsville, on the Staten Island shore, the guns of the squadron will thunder the navy's welcome to the sailor prince.

Prince Henry will land at the Thirty-fourth street pier, North river, and immediately go on board the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, which precedes him to this country. Here he will receive Mayor Low and other members of the New York welcoming party. In company with the committee Prince Henry and his suit will then leave New York for Washington. Sunday will be spent quietly at the German embassy. His formal call on the president will occur Monday, Feb. 24, and the dinner at the White House will probably take place on the evening of that day.

The launching of the Kaiser's American built yacht will occur on Feb. 25.

and then will follow a series of entertainments in New York, after which the prince will make a brief tour of the country.

The state department has spared no expense in arranging this part of Prince Henry's entertainment. The Olympia, the private car used by the late President McKinley, will be placed at his service. This flying palace has been entirely refitted. The train used by the royal visitor and his suit will be a revelation. Besides the prince's private car there will be a composite parlor and smoker, a baggage car, one regular sleeper and three stateroom cars. The seven cars will be practically new when they are placed in service.

Prince Henry's itinerary will carry him through thirteen of the most populous states of the Union, exclusive of the District of Columbia. It will cover a distance of 5,000 miles and last about nine days. Visits to the leading cities as far west as St. Louis will be made. The battlefields of Lookout Mountain, Bull Run and historic Bunker Hill will be inspected, as well as the Annapolis Naval academy and West Point.

According to the arrangements made and that Prince Henry may fulfill engagements made in his name by Ambassador von Holleben, Prince Henry will travel mostly by night. This will not preclude, however, a daylight view of the Alleghenies, Niagara and the Mississippi and Hudson rivers.

The car Olympia, which is to be the home of Prince Henry on his railway tour, is seventy feet long and contains five private rooms besides a section for servants. Lavatories, mirrors and wardrobes complete the equipment, and close at hand are the private baths. No two rooms are finished alike, the finest woods being used in their construction. In the rear of the prince's car is an observation and dining room sixteen feet long.

During his stay in this country Prince Henry will be guarded by a corps of secret service detectives. A picked company of European detectives will assist the secret service men in looking out for attacks from anarchists. These guards will be in constant attendance.

HOMEMADE DRESSES.

HOW A FINE TAILORED SUIT MAY BE MADE AT HOME.

Patience and Care in Fitting and Basting Will Give the Desired Finish and Satisfaction—Complete Working Directions.

(Copyright, 1902, by American Press Association.)

The preferred shape for tailored suits this season is one where there is a short jacket of some kind and a plain five cord skirt flared at the bottom. It is scarcely necessary to speak in detail of the skirt, only to say that all are made to fit closely over the hips and have an inverted fold at the center of the back. Where the figure is slender the regular five cord skirt patterns will bring it to fall just right, but if the wearer is stout the upper parts of the breadths are made somewhat wider, and after the small darts are laid in to fit it to the figure a dip is to be cut out in front starting from the center of the front breadth and extending to half way of the side one, the dip being from half an inch to two inches, the deepest part in the center, which will bring the skirt out free from the feet at the bottom and give it a very much better hang.

In facing a perfectly plain skirt an interlining of batiste or almost indistinguishable, and this should be sewed fast to the lining and lie next the dress material so that the facing proper covers the lining. The facing in such skirts as are lined with percale or any of the mercerized cottons is often of taffeta, and frequently a dust ruffle of the same is set along the under part.

Finish is given to the outside by the careful pressing. To do this the skirt should be put on the ironing board wrong side out and a wet piece of muslin folded several times laid over the place to be pressed and the hot iron left on until the cloth is dry. Then rewet and place it along on the rest where it is still unpressed. All seams in tailored garments gain their particular beauty by the careful pressing, and the folded wet cloth is the best way for doing it.

Most dressmakers finish the skirts with the opening at the back and close the placket with snap buttons, but it is really better to close them at the left side and have a small neat flap to button. Still, that is a matter of personal preference. A really handsome tailor suit is made quite long and touches the ground all around and often drags at the back. The walking suits are, however, still made to reach the instep only.

To cut the natty closed jacket in the illustration, which is to be worn with an underwaist of some kind or a chemise, follow the outline of the diagram. The fronts are to be cut along the selvage and the backs along the center fold and the side bodies on the straight from any place. The fronts have but one dart, and the extension into a short tab starts from this dart.

The back is curved in at the waist line one-half inch only to give it spring. The side back forms are sprung scarcely that and the side body the same, so that the lower part will only flare just as much as the waist does, and therefore it is best to try the jacket on with the seams wrong side out before sewing. Then it should be pinned closely and the seams opened out and pressed with the pins still in, after which it is possible to baste the garment accurately. Basting is the most important thing, even more than sewing.

When the trying on has been done and the seams basted again according to the glove fitting process of the pinning, and the coat tried on once more, if it is all right it can be sewed up and finished off. The dart is to be pressed apart, leaving a rounded corner at each side to form the tab.

The facing to the front is then basted on with a piece of stiff linen canvas all along, and it is better if this canvas is sewed fast in with the dart, as it gives more solidity. This reaches clear to the shoulder in front and is stitched to the front part of the lining. When it is sewed along down the front, the collar is added to the jacket. This has a canvas lining quilted to the under part. The outside is then put on and the collar sewed to the coat.

The center seam of the collar, which is always cut in four pieces, is laid exactly even with that in the center of the back and basted carefully so that the front comes to the notch in the front. This forms the revers, and just that portion which is one with the revers is to be sewed on the underside and turned and pressed before the two parts of the collar are basted together, so that the seam may join right. Then the out and in side of the collar are put together, stitched, turned and stitched again, this time all around the collar and down the fronts. To finish the bottom so that it will never go out of shape a row of bias canvas may be put in and pressed with the hem or a row of three cord featherstitch tape be sewed in with the rest as the finishing row of machine stitching is done.

McKinley's Pathetic Request.

Dr. Mathew D. Mann at the Manhattan Hotel, related this incident: On the first day of the visit to Buffalo of President McKinley, Dr. Herman Mynter walked up to the president and said: "Mr. President, I am a Dane by birth, but an American citizen. I am a warm supporter of your administration. I have no favor to ask." On the day of the shooting Dr. Mynter was one of the first physicians to reach the president. Mr. McKinley said to him: "Doctor, I remember you. Now I have a favor to ask. I want you to save my life."—New York Times.

The World's Centenarians.

It is not surprising that more people live to be over 100 years old in warm climates than in the higher latitudes. The German Empire, with 55,000,000 inhabitants, has 778 centenarians; France, with 40,000,000, has 313. England has only 146, and Scotland 16. Sweden has 10, Norway 23, Belgium 5, Denmark 2, Spain 401, and Switzerland none. Servia, with a population of 2,250,000, has 575 people over 100 years old. It is claimed that the oldest living person, one Bruno Corim, living in Rio de Janeiro, is 150 years old.

Substitute for Hitching Post.

An inventor has secured a patent on a device to take the place of a hitching post. It is in the form of a stiff leather shield which is to be strapped tight to one of the horse's front legs and, as the shield will not permit the horse to bend his knee, he cannot move.

The Latest Floral Wonder.

The newest floral wonder is the "Shasta daisy," originated by a flower grower of California. It measures a foot in circumference, and, when one was exhibited recently in a florist's window in San Francisco, people literally flocked to see it.

Library of Mormon History.

Theodore Schroeder of Salt Lake City has given to the Wisconsin Historical Library his library of Mormon history. This is one of the largest collections of books on this subject in existence. It embraces 23,000 bound volumes, pamphlets and newspaper files.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR MISS WILLARD

Exercises on Anniversary of the Death of the Temperance Worker
Being Held Today.

Evanston, Feb. 17.—The anniversary of the death of Miss Frances E. Willard will be observed in Evanston today with memorial services in the Emanuel Methodist Episcopal church. Under the direction of the W. C. T. U. a program has been arranged for the afternoon and evening. Miss Marie C. Brehm, the new state president of the organization will lecture.

Similar services will be held at the Willard hall at the noon hour, and will be in charge of Matilda B. Carse. Miss Brehm will make an address at this service also.

THRIFTY SCOTT WAS KNITTING

Members of the House of Commons

Shocked by one of Their Number
London, Feb. 17.—The house of commons has been termed the finest club in Europe, but some of the members received a severe shock the other day on going into the smoking room to seek refreshments. A member was noticed sitting in a far corner apparently playing some game with his hands, as they were waving about almost without cessation.

One of the party walked over to investigate. He found the gentleman, who is a Scotch member, calmly at work with needles knitting a stocking, while he waited for the division bell.

Letter From Capt. Graham

Mr. Philo Louden of this city has just received a very interesting letter from his old-time friend, Capt. Wm. B. Graham, of Omaha, Neb. Capt. Graham is a son of the late Alex. Graham of this city and is well-known to many of the readers of The Gazette.

Capt. Graham is attached to the paymaster department of the regular army, department of Missouri, and has the handling of millions of dollars every year. In paying the men in the regular army of the United States.

Capt. Graham has just returned from a three years' trip around the world, having gone west all the time, landing in New York City a short time ago. During his trip he visited the soldiers in Cuba, Hawaii, Guam and the Philippines.

Capt. Graham writes that he likes the work very much but would be better pleased if he could have his family with him on his long trips. He was glad to get home and to God's country, as he expressed himself. He made inquiries regarding his Janesville friends.

Funeral of Charles C. Peterson

The funeral of the late Charles C. Peterson was held from his home at 102 Cherry street at two o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. R. C. Denison of the First Congregational church officiated and spoke words of consolation and comfort to the bereaved family. Many beautiful floral offerings were made by the relatives and friends of the deceased as a last token of their regard.

The interment was at Oak Hill. The pall bearers were S. Trulson, Martin Halverson, A. Iverson and H. Hanson.

The Victim of a Runaway

Burt Luddington, an employee of Richter Bros., was the victim of a runaway this afternoon that resulted in breaking his left leg between the hip and knee. He was coming down Cedar avenue in a load of empty boxes when the horse became frightened at the cars and started on a run. The boxes offered no support for Luddington and as he turned the corner at Schaller & Mekey's lumber yard the boxes slipped and he was thrown to the ground striking on a large stone at the foot of a telephone pole at the corner, breaking his leg. A patrol call was at once sent in but the wagon was away from the house and it was some minutes before it arrived. He was carried to his home and Dr. Loomis called to attend him.

Work is being rushed these days by a large force of men who have the task in hand of remodeling the T. J. Ziegler establishment on North Main street. Decorators and painters have about finished the work on the walls and ceiling. Carpenters are now engaged in placing a hard wood floor as well as new shelving. New goods will commence to arrive next week to be arranged in plenty of time for the opening which will take place about Feb. 25.

Triste, Feb. 17.—The rioting which has continued here for several days past, is to all appearances over, work was resumed in all trades today.

"So you want to marry my daughter?"

said that the wealthy parent.

"What are your prospects?"

"Good," replied the nery suitor.

"If you consent."—Philadelphia Record.

DRY GOODS & CARPETS

More... Extensive... Improvements...

Than we at first figured on will necessitate a delay in the opening of our merchant tailoring establishment which was to have taken place on Feb. 15th. The latter part of the month will find our new department ready for inspection. A stock most complete and a cutter whose work is unquestioned are two points that are strong in our favor.
